

In just 1 day, more than 200 million hours of womens' time is consumed for the most basic of human needs - collecting water for domestic use.

About 50% of the girls in Sub-Saharan Africa who drop out of primary school do so because of poor water and sanitation.